

Charles M. Hewitt
Master Teacher
Finalists

From Awesome to Zany:
Developing Excellence in Teaching

Patricia Pattison is pleased to announce the four finalists for the Master Teacher Competition. They are:

Roger J. Johns, presenting “The Logic Doctor Is In: A System for Self-Diagnosing Legal Analysis Skills.”

Ross D. Petty, presenting “Judo Brand Diversion.”

Regina M. Robson, presenting “Breaking Out of the Box: An Exercise in ‘Extra Cubicle’ Thinking.”

Robert Sprague, presenting “Some Days You Get the Bear: Using the Blogosphere to Create Real-Time Lesson Plans.”

They will be presenting their teaching ideas at the Competition to be held Wednesday afternoon, August 13 at the ALSB meeting in Long Beach. These four finalists were blind reviewed and selected by Robert Bird, Will Mawer, and Alexis Stokes, from a very competitive field of twelve submissions.

Congratulations to all the finalists and thanks to the reviewers!